Quick description of the project/Quick description of your competencies

We've been developing software (CFD - see http://www.zenotech.com/products/zcfd/) to make highly efficient use of many-core architectures and would be very keen to work with others in Europe to prove / test the energy performance benefits. We have good links to NVIDIA and EGI.

Do you happen to know whether there are any consortia being formed from you own countries that might be looking to include such a UK SME? If so I would be very grateful to be put in contact - or pleased to provide them with our details?
