1) PROJECT INFORMATION

Field of expertise related to the topic: Our Foundation has 13-years long experience in the field of science education, mainly outside the classroom, through organisation of half-yearly summer and winter schools for science. Hundreds of young people have become inspired to engulf into scientific careers, making our schools a unique form of "science incubators". We now have a network of alumni around the world who stay in touch and engage as demonstrators for next generations of pupils and students.

We have a developed network and collaboration also with schools in our country, since we have continuously organised travelling science demonstrations and shows for all children.

We have been partners and coordinators in 7 editions of Researchers' Night, EU funded projects, since 2009, by which we have also extended collaboration with numerous international actors in the field of science education, science promotion and science communication.

Potential contribution to the project: We can offer a test base for outside of classroom activities, in the context of a generally poorly-performing science education country, such is Montenegro (PISA - 59th place). We have carried out foresight research on scientific policy and subcontracted surveys (Gallup methodology: Young people and science). We can organise conferences, workshops etc. in beautiful settings in our country. Therefore, the call no. 11 is where we can contribute the most, but we are also interested and could contribute to other topics related to RRI. Our members have passed trainings in this field through RRI Tools project.

Role in the project:

Research Dissemination Other
 Training Technology Development

Project idea: Analysis of effects of informal science education in a less developed European country with poor general level of science education. Analysis of the approach of focusing towards 'gifted' individuals VS measures to increase general science literacy
